

Community Capacity Building Working Group

Who We Are

The Community Capacity Building (CCB) Working Group is an initiative of the Fairfield Multicultural Interagency. Members of the Working Group come from various local organisations:

- Assyrian Resource Centre
- CORE Community Services
- Fairfield City Council
- Family Planning Australia
- Navitas Skilled Futures
- South Western Sydney Local Health District
- SSI
- STARTTS
- TAFE NSW

What We Do

We support ethno-specific groups/associations and individuals residing in and around Fairfield LGA by providing guidance and training.

What We Did

In July 2024 we met with a group of community and association leaders to understand the issues and needs of their communities and help guide the actions of the working group.

In 2024-25, we held training sessions for diverse community and association leaders on advocacy, writing submissions for systemic advocacy, grant writing and mental health literacy training.

What's Next

We will meet with community and association leaders in 2025 to ensure the working group is helping to address needs of their communities and understand any emerging needs.

We hope to continue being a solid support for local community groups and associations.
