My Aged Care

Introduction to My Aged Care	42
What is the Commonwealth Home Support Program (CHSP)?	43

Message from Fairfield City Mayor Frank Carbone

Fairfield City Council is committed to providing opportunities, support and resources for seniors to participate in the community and to embrace healthy ageing.

Fairfield City's Recreational and Healthy Activities Directory for Seniors 2024 has been developed to provide seniors with information about recreational groups and activities that are available across Fairfield City's 27 suburbs.

The Directory is also available online on Fairfield City Council's website, www.fairfieldcity.nsw.gov.au.

Printed copies of the Directory are also available on request, please email mail@fairfieldcity.nsw.gov.au or phone 9725 0222.

For more information regarding senior's community events and services, visit Council's website www.fairfieldcity.nsw.gov.au/Community/Our-People/Seniors

Frank Carbone
Mayor of Fairfield City

While every effort has been made to ensure that the information in the Directory is current, it is recommended to contact the organisation/group listed herein to ensure that its information is up-to-date.

If you are a community organisation or group that would like your information included or updated in the Directory, please contact the Social Planning and Community Development team on 9725 0222.

The importance of Recreational Activities for Healthy Ageing

Fairfield City Council is committed to building a stronger community that acknowledge the ongoing contribution of seniors in the community.

The Directory aims to connect seniors with recreational groups and activities that increase social interaction, physical activity and provide support and educational development.

The diverse groups and activities outlined in the Directory aim to promote a healthy ageing community that provides opportunities for seniors to improve their physical, mental and social health.

The Directory has recreational activities which have been divided into three healthy ageing catalogues which include:

The three healthy ageing categories aim to make it simpler for seniors to find a group or activity that suits their wants and needs.

Benefits of Lifelong Learning, Healthy and Social Recreational Activities and Programs

Lifelong Learning

- Research has found that lifelong learning helps improve mental function and the ability to adapt to change.
- Creative recreational activities help improve skill development, self-expression, and self confidence.
- Learning skills with others can improve interpersonal skills and make you feel more connected to the community.

Health and Wellbeing

- According to the Department of Health, 30 minutes of moderate exercise is the recommended daily requirement to improve heart, lung, muscle and bone function.
- Exercising has multiple benefits, it can assist in reducing stress and anxiety, reducing the risk of heart disease and diabetes and help prevent falls.
- Exercising also provides an increased sense of wellbeing by improving concentration and self confidence

Social

- Research has found socialising has many benefits in improving mental function and emotional health.
- Socialising can assist in reducing feelings of loneliness, which has been found to have a negative impact on emotional and physical health.
- Social groups provide the opportunity to develop interpersonal skills, social networks and build a stronger community.

Introduction to My Aged Care

What is My Aged Care?

My Aged Care was established by the Australian Government and can provide yourself, a family member or someone you know with the information on all aged care entitlements.

Call 1800 200 422 or apply for an online assessment. You will be checked for eligibility and will have the opportunity to discuss your preferred care needs.

My Aged Care

1800 200 422

Monday-Friday, 8am-8pm

Saturday, 10am-2pm

myagedcare.gov.au

You can book a free appointment with an Aged Care Specialist Officer by calling 1800 227 475 from 8am to 5pm on weekdays.

An Aged Care Specialist Officer is part of the face-to-face services of My Aged Care. They can assist with:

- Providing information on the different types of services provided by My Aged Care
- Checking if you're eligible for government-funded services and making a referral for an aged care assessment
- Helping you appoint a representative for My Aged Care
- Financial information about My Aged Care services
- Finding local support services.

Fairfield City Council does not run My Aged Care. Please contact the above numbers for more information.

What is the Commonwealth Home Support Program (CHSP)?

The CHSP is an entry level home support program run by My Aged Care, that helps older people to live independently in their homes and communities.

Aims of the program:

- Helping people live independently
- Working with the client, rather than doing things for them
- Give a small amount of help to a large number of people

Why it is important

These services encourage older Australians to:

- Stay safe in their homes while being independent.
- Avoid high-level care such as residential care in an aged care home.
- Stay socially active
- Stay connected with their community

If you are already with My Aged Care and want to find a provider near you, here is the Find a Provider Link on the My Aged Care website: www.myagedcare.gov.au/find-a-provider
